

DANIELLA

Daniella is educated to degree level in English and completed her PGCE at The University of Manchester in 2015. Since then, Daniella has quickly established herself as a successful and effective teacher. To date, Daniella has undertaken specific responsibility for coordinating the provision of Literacy across her school and now focuses on securing GCSE outcomes in her role as Key Stage 4 Progress Lead. Dynamic, dedicated and truly passionate about her subject, Daniella is a popular tutor who has worked with pupils across a range of ability ranges improving their confidence and enjoyment of English as well as securing GCSE outcomes in AQA English Language and Literature following the new specifications. Daniella has also recently become an examiner for the new GCSE specifications increasing her working knowledge of the examination requirements which informs her teaching with both the GCSE pupils as well as understanding how to effectively prepare younger students for these later demands.
